We Are Creative, We Are Avni Tech Media

Avni Tech Media is one of the fastest-growing media networks. Essentially the world grows with opportunities, we help our clients by replying to them, by making more reliable decisions, faster - blending innovation, creativity, understanding, and testimony to help them move faster, reach further and take smarter risks every day. We're much more than a media agency.

We're a media agency with over a decade of experience working with technology marketers. Intensely conscious of how customers vet and adopt technology brands, we have a deep knowledge of how-to best leverage mar-tech and ad-tech solutions across all digital channels. Our global presence means that your campaigns aren't limited to one region, language, or a linear understanding of your market

ATM Data Capabilities

The strongest, most complete set of first-party B2B tech purchase intent data there is.

Not all first-party intent data is created equal. Some are more equal than others.

With Avni Tech Media, you get the best, most reliable first-party tech intent data that goes both deep and wide into the account. By capturing multiple engagement signals across multiple touch-points, we ensure a quality and diversity of data is truly best-in-class.

Data-driven experiences to understand buyer behavior.

Unlike other providers, our business intent data is not just determined by what our audience reads, but also by other actions that they take online and behind the firewall - from activity in tools and apps to discussion on blogs and forums and review comparison. So you get nuanced, continuous data signals from the server room to the boardroom and more confident intent to purchase insights. That's what we call intelligent intent
